This catalogue contains product details, warranty information, pricing guidance, delivery timelines, and sales notes for 9to5 Seating products.

ErgoFlex X2

The ErgoFlex X2 is an ergonomic office chair designed for long working hours. It includes adjustable lumbar support, a breathable mesh back, adjustable armrests, seat-height adjustment, and a synchronized tilt mechanism.

Recommended users include software developers, analysts, designers, and other employees who remain seated for six or more hours per day.

The standard listed price is INR 18,500 per chair. For B2B orders above 50 units, sales representatives may request volume pricing approval from the sales manager.

Warranty and Service

The ErgoFlex X2 includes a five-year limited warranty covering manufacturing defects in the chair frame, tilt mechanism, and lumbar-support mechanism.

Normal wear and tear, accidental damage, misuse, and unauthorized modifications are not covered under the standard warranty.

Warranty claims should include the invoice number, product model, purchase date, and photographs of the reported defect.

Delivery and Installation

Standard delivery for orders within major Indian metro cities is usually completed within 7 to 10 business days after order confirmation.

Large corporate orders above 100 chairs may require 15 to 20 business days depending on inventory availability and customization requirements.

Installation support is available for bulk office orders. The sales team should confirm installation requirements before the final quotation is approved.

Product Comparison

Model	Best For	Warranty	Key Feature
ErgoFlex X2	Long working hours	5 years	Adjustable lumbar support
TaskLite M1	Small offices	3 years	Compact design
Executive Pro Z5	Leadership cabins	7 years	Premium leather finish

Internal Sales Guidance

For customers primarily concerned about lower-back support, sales representatives should first recommend the ErgoFlex X2 and explain its adjustable lumbar-support mechanism.

For budget-sensitive customers with small teams, the TaskLite M1 may be a better fit. For executive cabins and premium office interiors, recommend the Executive Pro Z5.

Sales representatives must not promise discounts beyond approved pricing rules. Any exceptional commercial request should be escalated to a sales manager.
